

The Open University

This is to certify that

Craig Reuben Smith

has completed

USING VLES IN MY TEACHING

as part of a Personal Development Programme with the Centre for Continuing Professional Development at The Open University.

Fraser Woodburn
(University Secretary)

Using VLEs in my teaching (GE020)

This course required 30 hours of study comprising:

- identify the different components of a virtual learning environment (VLE) and explain the function of each
- suggest criteria for successful use of VLE tools in teaching and learning
- critically examine different uses of VLE tools and consider the extent to which these provide effective learning experiences
- devise activities to support pupil learning using different components of your school VLE and evaluate these in terms of pupil learning and the completion of a work-based activity which demonstrated the connection between the course content and the individual and the school context of the participant.